Thanks to our Partners & Donors

The success of SKEP is dependent on all their partners participating in or supporting conservation and sustainable development activities in the region. Even though the programme remains a complex, evolving, stakeholder-driven process, it will continues to be an open consultative and inclusive programme. This is largely due to the fact that partners agree on a common vision and work as one to achieve the same result.

The people of the Succulent Karoo are taking ownership of and are enjoying their unique living landscape in a way that maintains biodiversity now and into perpetuity. This vision is becoming a reality, and many new opportunities and challenges lie before us.
